Messrs. L. A. Lagomarsino, Charles Wells and J. J. Read, of the Elks carnival committee, last night met at the office of Secretary Henry Nunn and decided to let the contract for furnishing the attractions for the Elks carnival to Bostock & Co., of Philadelphia. Mr. Potter, the representative, who is now in Newport, Ky., is expected at once to close the contract.

The committee took this action because they deemed the proposition of the Bostock people the better of the two. It also insures the Elks entirely new attractions.

The committee has also decided that there will be no exhibit street this year. The big arch will be near Ninth and Broadway, and the Jubilee Court will be located on the big lot there.

Some of the attractions offered by Bostock & Co. are as follows: Animal show, crystal maze, electrical theater and illusions, dog and monkey show, Pepper's ghost show, Wonder land and Bijon, German village, Fair Japan, moving pictures, trip to the moon, Venetian village.

Free acts—The great Grant, wonderful high wire man who walks on a wire through which passes 500 volts of electricity, monkey balloon ascension, triple bars, horizontal, 90 foot high dive.

HEARD IN WASHINGTON.

Debate in Senate Covered a Wide Range Yesterday Afternoon.

Canal and Philippine Questions Discussed—News from the Capitol.

Washington, Feb. 7.—For four hours yesterday the Senate had the Philippine tariff bill under discussion. To want the close of the session the discussion became heated. In response to a resolution offered several days ago by Mr. Hawlin of Utah, the secretary of war transmitted to the Senate the edition laws enacted by the Philippine commission. They were read in full and immediately drew the fire of the opponents of the government's Philippine policy. Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts expressed his astonishment that such laws should be enforced by the government authorities. Mr. Foraker of Ohio had read from the revised statutes of the United States the laws of Congress relating to the crime of treason and similar offenses against the government, and said that the acts passed by the Philippine commission were almost identical in their language with the laws enacted by Congress in the days of the fathers of the republic, and that there was nothing unprecedented or unusual about them.

The Ohio Senator was interrupted continuously, and had several warm colloquies with Senators who were opposing him. In one of them he announced with great earnestness that the American army would never return from the Philippines until it returned victorious.

Early in the day Mr. Scott of West Virginia delivered a speech in which he advocated an investigation of the San Blas route for an isthmian canal, and Mr. Haysbrooke made a carefully prepared address on his bill to create a national system of irrigation and land.

No document has ever been handled with more caution by the senate employees than the petition signed by 372 names, presented today by Senator Potter. Some of the clerks asked questions, while others demanded answers. The petition came from the settlement in Hawaii. The petitioners prayed that this settlement be made a national leper colony. There is a bill before the ways and means committee providing for annual leave of absence for storekeepers and members of the internal revenue department. It authorizes leave of absence of two and one-half days for each month of thirty days actually employed, and is approved by the commissioner of internal revenue. In every other department of the government officials and employees are allowed leave of absence with pay, and some but fair that storekeepers and members should be allowed the privilege, and given like opportunity for rest and recuperation.

FOR PETTY LARCENY. Judge Lightfoot was trying Amy Smith, white, for stealing iron from J. R. Smith at press time. He held over from the police court.

One of the liveliest meetings held in some time in Paducah was that last night of the city council, with several outsiders, behind closed doors, to consider the transfer of Paducah to the second class. The session was held in the school board chamber at the city hall, and reporters were barred.

The causes that lead to the meeting, briefly sketched up, are that about two years ago it was suggested that Paducah go into the second class. Mayor James M. Lang opposed the measure, because it would cost about $400 to take the census, the federal census was only half a year off and he did not believe the city had over 20,000 inhabitants. The census was taken, and it showed that there were not 20,000 people here.

The following year the federal census was taken, and it failed to show 20,000 inhabitants. Then last year it was decided that Paducah was ready to go into the second class, and another census was taken. It showed over 20,000 inhabitants, and the council then passed an ordinance embodying the census report, and making the necessary provisions to have the legislature admit the city to the second class.

The new council came in in December and took further steps toward having the legislature pass the necessary bill, and the documents, pursuant to an order of the council, were forwarded to Representative Clark, and given first passage.

A delegation went to Frankfort to confer with representatives of cities of the second class, and it was found that certain changes desired by Paducah could not be agreed on by representatives of second class cities, who did not deem them suited to those cities. The Paducah delegation came back, evidently opposed to the transfer to the second class, claiming that the disadvantages would outweigh the advantages, in view of the failure to get the desired concessions, and the meeting last night was to have the council consider the matter as a committee of the whole.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Yeiser, the twelve city councilmen, City Attorney J. M. Worten, Conny Judge R. T. Lightfoot, former Mayor James M. Lang and City Clerk Patterson.

The liveliest part of the meeting, it is said, was a sparring match (verbal) between former Mayor Lang and former City Attorney Lightfoot. Dr. Lang led the second class forces, and Judge Lightfoot the forces opposed to the transfer to the second class. They wrangled for half an hour or more, according to reports.

When the vote was taken on whether it was the sense of the meeting that Paducah go into the second class, it stood as follows: Those in favor—Lang, Johnson, Taylor, Nicholas, Worten, Gilson, Brooks, Hannon and Lightfoot.

Against going into the second class—Yeiser, Fowler, Reed, Woolfolk, Himmell, Potter, Patterson and Jackson. It is seen that while Judge Lightfoot talked against the change, he voted for it.

It is also observed from the vote that the city council is six and six. Five of those who voted last night had no right to vote, so far as definite action is concerned, they being Messrs. Lang, Johnson, Taylor, Nicholas, Worten, Gilson, Brooks, Hannon and Lightfoot.

Some of those present wanted to leave the question to the Commercial club, as a body of representative citizens, who could come near expressing the intelligent sentiment of the people. This was not granted, however.

It was decided that Judge Lightfoot is to draft a number of amendments to the third class charter, which will give Paducah some desired changes and concessions, perhaps, those who want to go into the second class. These amendments will be submitted to the council for its sanction, and if the council is in favor of them, an effort will be made to get the legislature to pass them.

As a result of last night's meeting, however, it is impossible to foretell what is going to be done. Some of those present last night say Paducah will go into the second class, and others say they don't think it will.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The case of B. B. Davis against the board of education is still on trial in circuit court. The evidence has been partially heard, and it will be some time before the case is finished. Es-Major Lang was on the stand this afternoon.

William M. Babb today filed a suit against R. C. Utterback, former deputy sheriff, and Mrs. L. A. Allcock. His homestead was attached and sold by Deputy Utterback, he alleges, and was purchased by Mrs. Allcock in the settlement of the estate of J. C. Allcock, deceased, and before the sale of the land was made the plaintiff had taken a bankrupt law, and the sheriff was given due notice of the case before the sale was made. The plaintiff prays to have restrained and prevented the making and the delivering of a deed to the defendant, Mrs. Allcock, and to restrain her from any further action in the matter of the purchase of the property. The place brought $68.40, the price of the claim against it by the deceased.

F. G. Randolph, administrator of the estate of the late J. H. Wilson, the I. C. engineer who met his death in a railroad accident in Tennessee on the February 6, 1901, filed a suit against the I. C. road and the conductor of the train on which Mr. Wilson was employed and Phillip Kothelmer, the engineer of the train that struck the train on which Mr. Wilson was employed. He wants $25,000 damages.

Cora Blizard was this morning divorced from her husband, George D. Blizard.

By agreement the case of E. E. Lynn against H. K. Fowler was continued.

COUNTY COURT.

Two suits were filed in the county court today. The St. Louis Fireworks company filed a suit against the firm of Dunlop and Co., to recover an alleged balance of $114.05 on a bill alleged to have been sold the defendants.

O. L. Gregory filed suit against Jack Hart on a note for $200.

POLICE COURT.

The case against Robert Hale charged with cruelty to animals, was again continued.

Charles Grosshart and James Taylor were fined $5 and costs each for being drunk and disorderly.

A case against George Garvey and Shorty Walker, for a breach of the peace, was continued. Walker has not been caught.

AT FRANKFORT.

NEW BILLS INTRODUCED IN THE HOUSE TODAY—WORLD'S FAIR APPROPRIATION.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—Several new bills were introduced today. In the senate Tompkins introduced a bill appropriating a hundred thousand dollars for the St. Louis exposition.

An oratorical hit in the house was that of Representative Lewis of Muhlenberg, favoring quail trapping.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—The redistricting committee of the legislature has put the finishing touches to its work. At the request of several members of the legislature interested in the disposition of their counties, the changes originally announced have been revised. According to Democratic estimates the senate districts are 24 safely Democratic, 7 safely Republican and 7 doubtful.

Several new Democratic districts have been made in the mountains by changes in the house districts.

The third and ninth Congressional districts are made Democratic.

The Congressional districts are as follows:

First district—No change.

Second—Muhlenberg, with 650 Republican majority, added.

Third—Muhlenberg, with 650 Republican majority, taken out and Adair, with 380 Republican majority, added.

Fourth—Casey, with 500 Republican majority, added.

Fifth—No change.

Sixth—Grant taken out, with 600 Democratic majority.

Seventh—No change.

Eighth—No change.

Ninth—Grant, with 600 Democratic majority, added.

Tenth—No change.

Eleventh—Adair and Casey taken out. Adair has 250 Republican majority and Casey 500 Republican majority.

MISSISSIPPI MURDERERS ORDERED TO PAY DEATH PENALTY.

Greenville, Miss., Feb. 7.—Closing the exciting chapter of the murder case in which Ashley Cooke and Landardale were on trial for the killing of Engineer William Wray on a Valley train last month, the jury last night returned a verdict of guilty as charged.

There was no equivocation about the verdict. It sealed the fate of the two men in the few words of legal form. In anticipation of the decision of the jury, the defendants had been brought into court, and they received the news with much show of emotion. Cooke sat with his head bowed and refused to raise his eyes from the floor. Landardale wept bitterly and broke down completely under the excitement and strain of the moment.

FATALLY HURT.

PAINTER AT FULTON STRUCK BY AN ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRAIN.

Fulton, Feb. 7.—Mr. J. M. Savage, a well known painter, was struck by a freight engine and probably fatally injured.

From reports he was stooping over, picking up coal near the track, and it is supposed he thought the train was on another track.

He was struck by the wooden bolster that projects from the engine. His skull was crushed, and concussion of the brain set in, and he is now in a critical condition and his death is expected at any moment. He was rendered unconscious, and has not spoken since the accident. He moved here from Calloway county several years ago, and is a hard working man.

Mr. Joe Hinds, the engineer on the engine No. 620, which hit him, says he did not see Savage until it was too late to reverse his engine.

AT GRAND RIVERS.

The First Furnace to Start in About Two Weeks.

Col. T. J. Scott is Here Today on Business—Small Damage by Fire.

Colonel T. J. Scott of the Grand Rivers Iron furnaces, was in the city today on business, and returns to Grand Rivers this afternoon late. He stated to a reporter that the weather had delayed them about ten days, but they are getting in much coke and much ore, and the first furnace will start in about two weeks. The other will be started a short time afterward.

The house of Mr. Nichol there was slightly damaged by fire last Wednesday, being caused by a defective fuse. The loss, owing to prompt action, was slight.

SERIOUS CHARGE

A MAN NAMED HOWARD UNDER ARREST AT BENTON.

Benton, Ky., Feb. 7.—A man attempted to rape a young woman near town Tuesday night. Maggie Smith, transient, saw the man with her father, and swore out a warrant against Dillard Howard, charging him with rape. Howard was arrested and jailed. The girl says he came to their camp, one mile north of town, Tuesday night, and threatened to shoot in the house if she did not come out, and as she refused, he went in the house and assaulted her. Howard denied the charge, and was later released, as the Smith girl said he was not the man. His brother was identified as the one, and will be tried Monday.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE.

Union City, Tenn., Feb. 7.—Ill health and financial troubles caused W. C. Webb to kill himself today by shooting with a pistol, at his home several miles from here. For many years he was a well known merchant of this city.

AFTER FIFTY YEARS.

A POLICY WAS CANCELLED BECAUSE THE INSURED MADE A MISTAKE IN AGE.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Ileeanse Thomas Chalmers of the firm of Fraser and Chalmers made a mistake in his age a life insurance company has cancelled a policy on his life, issued more than fifty years ago. Mr. Chalmers has brought suit in the Superior Court to have the company's action annulled. When Mr. Chalmers in 1851 was, as he says in his bill, a "workingman," he took out a policy for $2,100, giving the date of his birth as June 14, 1820. A few years later his daughter visited his old home in Scotland, and, consulting the parish register, discovered that the date of her father's birth was June 14, 1816.

Mr. Chalmers took out another policy for $3,000 with the same company in 1866, and in filing his application gave his correct age. He continued to pay the premiums on the first policy, he says, after the second policy had made the company acquainted with his true age. Finally, in 1901, the policy was cancelled.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Nashville, Feb. 7.—The Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company held its annual meeting at Hopkinsville, Ky., yesterday. The president's report showed that the increase in subscribers during the year over the entire system was 19,000, making the total number of subscribers January 1, 76,100. The cost of improvements during the year amounted to $1,500,000. There was no change in the directory, except Whitfield R. Cole of Nashville succeeded Henry Sperry.

THE WEATHER.

Last night the mercury went down to 16 degrees and the predictions from the weather bureau today are for fair and colder today and tonight, continued tomorrow.

Y. M. C. A. WORK

A Committee Meeting Held Here Last Night.

State Secretary Rosecrans Was in Attendance—Left for Louisville.

The arrangement committee of the local Y. M. C. A. held a meeting last night to discuss plans and arrangements for the big convention fast approaching. Secretary H. C. Rosecrans of the state department was present, and left last night for Louisville, where he will mail the partly arranged program of the convention to the local association, so that the remainder can be filled out and the program prepared for printing.

Cards will be struck featuring the big events of the convention, and every means to create interest to outsiders adopted. Big cards have already been printed giving pictures of the prominent speakers and the subjects of their addresses.

There was also a preachers' conference held at the association last night, for the purpose of discussing the convention, and several arrangements made for holding services. The preachers will take an active part in the convention, and will do all in their power to make it the most successful ever held.

The ladies' committee will today or tomorrow purchase the curtains and other furnishings for the building.

The arithmetic class met last night with a small attendance.

Last night a few members of the association met to organize an indoor race ball team, but there were not enough present and organization was postponed.

DAILY THOUGHT.
"It is better to have mountains to climb than to inherit ease and possessions."

CRUSADE FOR CLEANLINESS.

The new administration in New York City is inaugurating some important changes, and among the things effected by it are the barber laws. The health commissioner has decided that they must be as near perfect as they can be, and this is doubtless a wise precaution. Although it may not be generally known, and is easily forgotten, men risk their health and happiness every time they patronize a barber shop, for there is no telling what disease may be contracted from the virus or germs left on a razor, comb, brush or towel.

The new rules to be enforced in New York are: "Don't use a sponge on the face after shaving. Don't use a powder puff. Don't use a towel more than once."

There is not one of these sanitary rules that is not violated in nearly every shop in the country every day. In addition to the "don'ts" printed above, the commissioner will insist that every barber wash his hands carefully after he finishes with each customer. When a man rallies to the cry of "Next," he may also expect to find that the razor that is to be used upon him has been thoroughly cleaned, if not sterilized, since it was last used.

The commissioner thinks that no inspector will be needed to enforce the new rules. Every customer, realizing that they are for his own good, will become an inspector almost ready to properly report remissness on part of the barbers. The commissioner says: "Where a man is used, it should be in the form of a powder. A sponge is the last man's tool, and it is a menace to every face. It is a medium for the carrying of disease, and there is an excuse for its use."

It is the same with powder. It should be put on the face, not with a powder puff, which goes on all sorts of faces, but by a fresh towel. I shall be glad to have any one who sees any infraction of these rules report it to me.

It is promised that if the powers that be decide not to have the bill transferring Paducah to the second class passed in the legislature, steps may be taken by others to force the legislature to pass it. The constitution makes it imperative on the legislature to transfer cities containing over 30,000 inhabitants into the second class, and the last census shows that Paducah has over 30,000 inhabitants. In view of this, the legislature must, in pursuance of law, and the constitution, transfer Paducah into the second class, despite objections, but the legislature cares nothing about law or the constitution. It repeatedly violates both, and intends to re-district the state in a manner directly contrary to law. It will probably allow Paducah to remain in the class the authorities desire her to remain in.

About all the people who have any use for telephones can afford them at the present rate, and do afford them. A reduction in rates would add few inroads to the number of telephone subscribers. Another telephone system might bring about a reduction in the rate. People are now getting connections with twelve hundred telephones for a dollar or two dollars a month. Suppose that with competitive systems they could get the same sort of a telephone for 50 cents or a dollar a month. This would be cheaper, but the subscriber would soon find that the dual system had divided the patronage, and where he formerly could get 1200 connections for a dollar he could get only about four, five or six hundred for 50 cents. To get satisfactory service he would have to be annoyed by two telephones. The telephone business is one that competition does not improve.

Of course it is very reasonable to expect the legislature to "leave to the cities of the second class the right to say what officials they may have and what their respective salaries may be." The legislature has never left such things to cities of the first, second, or any other class, and it is not reasonable to expect it to leave it to cities of the second class, simply because Paducah wants to go into the second class—if the class is made to suit her. The officials authorized in the respective cities, and the salaries, are regulated by charter, and this charter is passed by the legislature. The difference in the officials, and the salaries paid them, constitute one of the chief differences of the various classes.

As the advertising twigs in the advertising tree will be inclined, begin meekly, but surely. It is not a few points, but earn.

The Democratic state administration has proceeded to quietly ignore the damaging charges made against the Hopkinsville saylism officials, and will evidently whitewash the whole affair. This may surprise some of the blind, unsuspecting Democrats, but it will surprise no one who knows the kind of gang in power at Frankfort. To quash the allegations will be perfectly in keeping with the character of a crowd that has stolen every state office from the Republicans, and tried to ease the public conscience by persistently persecuting the men whose places they have thus ruthlessly usurped.

The Cuban question is gradually shaping itself, and the bolder spirits are already suggesting that we extend her an invitation to be adopted by us. We boast of having the greatest and freest country on earth. We have improved with 100 years of experience, and if Cuba cannot be pleased with the brand of freedom she would have as a part of us, she could be satisfied with nothing.

The coal men, the insurance men, and the lawyers and doctors, as well as the usually contented newspaper man, want legislation this time, and the legislature continues to spend its time taking drinks at the saloons and solemnly meditating on such profound subjects as the protection of rabbits, and school books proving that Schley was here at the Battle of Santiago.

The term "chief horse expert" is puzzling the United States and English governments. It is not known who the "chief horse expert" is. Perhaps it is some of our Kentucky legislators. They may not be "chief horse experts," but they legislate like they are "chief horse experts."

The insurance men in the upper part of the state are trying to form some sort of a combination and raise fire insurance rates in the state. Thus far they have not made a success of it.

Perhaps in two years more Paducah will be in the majority in the legislature and then we can have the second class charter fixed as we want it, and become a city of the second class.

THE FIREMEN'S BALL.

The firemen are selling many tickets to their big ball and say that they think it will be a greater success than any heretofore given. There seems to be some little friendly rivalry among the firemen and the police and both are working hard to outsell the other. The police are working for their first ball and will probably not give one after this but the firemen give one each year and intend to continue the practice.

GRIFFO INSANE.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—"Young Griffo," the pugilist was adjudged insane today and ordered sent to an asylum. The prize fighter, some months ago was an inmate of an asylum, but he was given his freedom when it was thought he was cured. During the recent cold snap, "Griffo's" feet and hands were frozen, and although it was not found necessary to amputate them, the pain is said to have done much to unsettle the patient's mind.

FURNACE IS OVERFLOWED.

This morning the local Illinois Central passenger depot was cold and no fire could be made in the furnace boiler. The siphon which pumps the water out of the fire box, broke and let the furnace fill with water so that it was impossible to keep a fire going. The furnace has been a source of much trouble for the local people and it has to be repaired and overhauled several times during every season.

GALWAY AUTHOR DEAD.

London, Feb. 7.—Prof. Dr. Arcey Thompson of Galway is dead. He was the author of "Day Dreams of a Schoolmaster."

Winter coughs are apt to result in consumption if neglected. They can be soon broken up by using Foley's Honey and Tar.

J. C. GILBERT.

THE ANNUAL REUNION

Local Old Fellows are already beginning preparations for the Tri-state reunion that takes place at Murphysboro, Ill., on the 25th of April. A committee composed of Messrs. Charles Barhart, Charles Smith and Frank Digel have been appointed to begin the preparations.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough caused by attack of grip. It heals the lungs.

J. C. GILBERT.

CAPT. SCHROEDER'S CONDITION.

Captain S. J. Schroeder continues to slowly improve. His condition has been greatly bettered in the past three days and the physicians are greatly encouraged. He is still in danger, however.

The Sun has removed to the old News stand, 118 South Third street.

DEADLOCK

MINERS WILL NOT ACCEPT THE PRESENT AGREEMENT.

Indianapolis, Feb. 7.—The United Mine Workers and the operators of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania did not reach an agreement today. The discussion in the subcommittee was along the proposition of the miners for a 10 per cent advance, but it is understood that no vote was taken during the forenoon.

It became evident today that the miners have made up their minds not to accept the present agreement. A number of officials privately declared that even if the convention did adopt this scale, it would result in many strikes, as the miners would never consent to work under the conditions that now exist.

President Mitchell refused to state today whether or not the situation is satisfactory.

KING OF SIAM

WILL ALLOW THE CROWN PRINCE TO COME FIRST AND INVESTIGATE.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The state department is advised that, owing to a change in plans, the King of Siam will not visit the United States this year. The cause assigned is the unexpected return of the crown prince to Siam in the autumn. It is said that the crown prince will return to his country by way of the United States, and it is thought that the king desires to learn the impressions made upon the prince's mind during his stay in this country before determining whether or not to include the United States in his own itinerary.

LITTLE MISSED.

BUT FROM EVIDENCES THE THIEVES WERE COLD.

Thieves are still doing work about the city and the latest victim to their art is Flagman Gibson of the Tennessee street crossing. Last night some one entered his house at the railroad crossing and stole his overcoat. The garment was hung on a nail in the rear of the place and the door securely locked. The fire was banked for the night and upon his arrival this morning Mr. Gibson found a big fire burning and the door unlocked. The thieves had a key, he thinks, but suspects no one. This is all he has missed so far.

FINE CHICKENS STOLEN.

THIEVES AGAIN ABROAD ON THE NORTH SIDE OF TOWN.

There is considerable complaint from residents of the north side of chicken thieves since the city became dark. Many raids have been made, but few of them reported to the police because there is practically no chance of capturing the thieves. Last night some one made a haul at Mr. A. A. Bales' place, on Fourth near Madison, and stole four of his finest fowls. They didn't even leave a feather.

COUNTY CAN LEVY TAXES

THE COURT OF APPEALS DECIDES AGAINST THREE CORPORATIONS.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—The court of appeals has reversed the judgment of the Campbell circuit court in the case of Campbell county vs. the L. and N., Mayville and Big Sandy and the Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Co. The court holds the county has the right to levy taxes to build a courthouse, and that the tax levy shall be uniform throughout the whole county. The corporations are held liable.

FLAGMAN HURT.

MR. HENRY NANGLE LAID UP BY A SPRAINED KNEE.

Mr. Henry Nangle, the well known freight flagman, is in the hospital suffering from a sprained knee. He slipped on the ice at Greenville, Ky., yesterday morning and slid down a steep embankment lighting on the knee and spraining it badly. He was relieved as soon as possible and brought to the local hospital for treatment. His many friends will regret to learn of his accident.

THE SUPERVISORS ADJOURN

The board of county supervisors has adjourned after a long session. They made a total of about $405,000 in raises, but the reductions on "protest" will probably cut this down to $375,000 in raises. This will make the total valuation of property in the county about $5,500,000, more than half a million increase. The amount of taxes collected by the county will probably be increased from $62,000 to $70,000 this year.

Mothers can safely give Foley's Honey and Tar to their children for coughs and colds, for it contains no opiates or other poisons.

J. C. GILBERT.

DANGERS OF MODERN EDUCATION.

Fond mother—Oh, I am so glad you came in! I don't know what on earth ails the baby. Caller—Shall I run for the doctor? Fond mother—No, for an interpreter. His French nurse left suddenly today, and nobody can understand what he says.—The Wave.

Observations

....at Random

Sergeant Charles D. Wigginton, who is now in charge of the recruiting station here, is quite a soldier, and is a hero of two wars, the Spanish-American and the Philippine insurrection. He was with the 16th U. S. Infantry during the Cuban war, and was at the battle of San Juan Hill, but discreetly declines to be interviewed on the subject. He was also first sergeant in the company of Former Lieutenant Mumford's company in the Philippines, and fought in about thirty battles, being wounded slightly in one. Lieutenant Mumford is now proprietor of the Palmer House news stand, and is very popular in society here. He was very glad to see his former colleague when he arrived the other day to do service in the general recruiting department.

A good story is told of how Congressman J. S. Jackson stopped midnight prowlers from stealing his wood. It got so the councilman could not leave a splinter in his yard that it was not stolen during the night. His finally had to lock everything up. If a chunk of wood happened to be in the yard at nightfall, it happened to be some where else the next morning.

The councilman finally became a little mad, and following out a nice looking chunk of firewood, filled it with powder and plugged it up. Then he left it in a conspicuous place in the yard, and was not surprised the following day to find it gone. It was not long until he heard a terrific explosion in the neighborhood. It struck him at once that something had happened, and when he went out to investigate, he found the stove in the kitchen of a colored family completely demolished, with the tea kettle blown half across the room. The flying utensil had narrowly missed one of the children. The councilman thinks the experiment was a good one, however, although somewhat dangerous, as he has not been troubled with wood thieves since.

Last night four countrymen gave a performance in the poolroom at the Palmer House in the presence of a large audience. The place was crowded when they dropped in, and after watching several games by expert players, concluded that it must be great sport, and not a hard matter to put the balls in the pockets. They called the attendant and ordered a table set up, which was done, and the yokels then proceeded to amuse the gathering with their antics. They did not hold the "stick" as they called the cues, as the more expert player would hit, but suited their own style, and one fellow held his stick by the end while another held his like he would a shot gun and punched the balls along the table. After playing about an hour and a half, they finally got the last ball in, and after a lengthy conference decided to play again. By this time the pool room had gained recruits, and was well filled with spectators. The laughs that would greet the players' clumsy efforts to play the game over once effected them, and they played in ignorance that they were creating any more excitement or amusement for the crowd than any other players, until the second game ended, in about another hour.

Miss Maude Daniels, the manager of the Wilbur Opera company, has not been on the stage for several years, and thereby lacks a narrative. Formerly she was famous throughout the country for her beautiful form. In fact, she was often compared by the critics to Pauline Markham and other beautiful women, and wherever she went the critics went into raptures over her elegant physique. She was in comic opera at the time, and a member of the Wilbur company, and made the announcements between acts, attired in a handsome soldier suit with tights. In Buffalo she made the announcements one season, and the critics said she was the prettiest thing that ever loomed upon the theatrical horizon, and she was very much pleased. She made regular extemporaneous speeches, and always scored a hit.

Then she began to get stout. She contemplated her inevitable obesity with growing alarm, but it was of no use. In a few months her best friends didn't know her. Her beautiful form was only a robust memory, and it was with misgivings that she donned another soldier suit, with tights, when the company went to Buffalo the next season, to make the announcements and speeches between acts. She did this in the urgent request of the manager, who knew how popular she was there. The event passed off smoothly enough, but many of the audience, it is said, shed tears when they saw what a change had come over their favorite. The next morning one of the papers said: "When Miss Maude Daniels was here last season, we thought she had the most beautiful form on the American stage. When we saw her again last night, we were convinced that all her form can now be used for a support for Brooklyn bridge."

Miss Daniels then left the stage, and has not been on since.

Thomas H. Gales, of Cairo, Trigg county, has filed a petition to bankruptcy in the United States court here, with liabilities amounting to about $1000.

A TEST EXPERIMENT

PECULIAR POWER POSSESSED BY A NEW MEDICINE.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and one which will prove invaluable to thousands of people is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate ate diseases, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a lonely advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless vegetable essences, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their good qualities indefinitely, whereas all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have had as soon as uncorked and exposed to the air.

This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these tablets or lozenges will digest from 300 to 5,000 times its own weight of meat, eggs and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following manner: A hard boiled egg cut into small pieces was placed in a bottle containing warm water, heated to sixty-eight degrees, or blood heat, one of these tablets was then placed in the bottle and the proper temperature maintained for three hours and a half, at the end of which time the egg was as completely digested as it would have been in a healthy stomach. This experiment was undertaken to demonstrate that what it would do in the bottle it would also do in the stomach, hence its unquestionable value in the cure of dyspepsia and weak digestion. Very few people are free from some form of indigestion, but scarcely two will have the same symptoms. Some will suffer most from distress after eating, floating from gas in the stomach and bowels; others have acid dyspepsia or heartburn, others palpitation or headaches, sleeplessness, pains in chest and under shoulder blades, extreme nervousness, as in nervous dyspepsia, but they all have same cause, failure to properly digest what is eaten. The stomach must have rest and assistance, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both, by digesting the food for it and in a short time it is restored to its normal action and vigor. At same time the Tablets are so harmless that a child can take them with benefit. This new preparation has already made many astonishing cures, as for instance, the following:

After using only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, I have received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the package, and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was chronic dyspepsia, and absolutely incurable, as I had suffered twenty-five years. I distributed half a dozen packages among my friends here, who are very anxious to try this remedy.

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels, Lynnville, Jasper Co., Mo. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full sized packages. A little book on stomach diseases mailed free by addressing P. A. Stuart, Co., Marshall, Mich.

A NIGHT ALARM.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell, and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier of Muncie, Ind., writes: "My three-year-old girl had a severe case of croup the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave quick relief and saved her life." Refuse substitutes.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

The remains of the late Mr. Frank Cooney arrived from El Paso, Tex., last night, and the funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Christian church, Rev. W. H. Pinkerton officiating. The burial was at Oak Grove, and the following acted as pall bearers: J. R. Dorris, Ben Wells, Fred Vint, H. G. Johnson, Louis Rapp and A. C. Patterson.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

IN THE INTEREST OF SCIENCE

When one's friend is a scientist and gives to experiments, a little caution may not be out of place before consenting to do him a favor. That, however, did not occur to a certain well-known public man whose experience is related in an Australian paper. He went to the laboratory of an old schoolmate, a Melbourne professor of chemistry, to make a friendly call. The professor was studying a dark brown substance spread out on a sheet of paper.

"I say," he cried, when greetings had been exchanged, "would you kindly let me place a bit of this on your tongue? My taste has become vitiated by trying all sorts of things."

"Certainly," responded the accommodating friend, and he promptly opened his mouth.

The professor took up some of the substance under analysis and put it on his friend's tongue. The man worked it around in his mouth for fully a minute, tasting it much as he might have tasted a choice confection.

"Note any effect?" asked the professor.

"No, none."

"It doesn't paralyze or prick your tongue?"

"Not that I can detect."

"I thought not. There are no alkaloids in it, then. How does it taste?"

"Bitter as gall."

"Heaven! All right."

By this time the visitor's curiosity was aroused. "But what is it, anyhow?" he inquired.

"I don't know. That's what I'm trying to find out. Some one has been poisoning horses with it."

Steamer Key City.

Whereas bills were filed in the district court of the United States, at Paducah, Ky., on the 1st day of February, 1902, by H. F. Young and others against the steamer Key City, her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., alleging in substance that said steamer was indebted to them in the sum of $126.35, for wages as seamen on said steamer; that the said steamer is justly indebted to them in the said sum; that same has never been paid, and pray process against said steamer, and that it be condemned and sold to pay said claims, with cost and expenses. Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court to me directed, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming the said steamer Key City or her appurtenances interested therein, that they be and appear in the district court of the United States in the city of Paducah, Ky., on or before the 5th day of March, 1902, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to interpose their claims and to make their allegations in that behalf.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS

THROWN AWAY.

Mr. W. W. Baker of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had long trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low, and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did; and thanks to this great remedy, it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar, and would not ask those afflicted to try it."

Prominent New Yorkers Going to New Orleans to Escort Rex.

A delegation of some of the most distinguished men in New York will pass through Paducah next Saturday afternoon en route to New Orleans to attend Mardi Gras. In the party will be Hon. David B. Hill, the famous politician, who has never yet been through Paducah.

A New York dispatch says of the delegation:

"The Old Guard of New York and the Burgesses of Albany, accompanied by detachments of the Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford and New Haven, Providence Light Infantry and Cleveland Grays, will leave for New Orleans by special train on Friday to participate in the Mardi Gras. The Old Guard and the Burgesses have been invited to act as escort in New Orleans and to accept that invitation. Heretofore Southern military organizations have always performed escort duty for the military king. The special train will leave New York at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning and will go by the West Shore, Nickel Plate, Big Four, Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern and Illinois Central railroads. The visitors will return home February 14."

The Arbitrator.

BY ELIZABETH CHERRY WALTZ. (Copyright, 1910, by Daily Story Pub. Co.) From a low cottage door on a grassy mountain slope, a girl looked wonderingly across the narrow creek valley. There, evidenced by black openings on different levels, in scars and seams, in grimy elevators and sheds were the coal mines. In front were the tramways, separators, great chutes where all day long crashed and rumbled down into black cars. Here it was suddenly still and the noise of a great commotion came instead. The pit mouths gave up men instead of coal and they shouted and threw up their hands excitedly.

There was no fear of an explosion. She knew that excitement. This was something unclassified. Why had the mine quit at three o'clock in the afternoon? Had any of the men been hurt or murdered? Was it her father or brother? Was it Danny Brown? Then her heart beat fast, she saw many women running down the cliff path, hatless and with their hair in their arms.

Else, long limbed and youthful, caught up with Lige Fletcher's wife, who was trying to hurry with her three-month-old twins.

"Gumma On!" breathed Else, then ran, down and up the hill, to reach the level where the men were gathered.

"What is it, men? What's up?" Willie, her tall brother of fifteen, ran toward her.

"Boss! Danny his time 'long o' the music!"

"An' we've quit!" yelled a bystander. "We've quit, six hundred o' us, 'till Danny goes back!"

"Tell he goes back," mumbled an old doorman. "Danny's a good fellow, but he's been mean all day. Um, Brownell's foolish about the mine. Back to work, men!"

A word and they shouted with the rest.

"We mus' ha' Danny back!" The mine boss leaned against a post, big, brutal and scowling.

"Then he'll go in and fetch out Crazy Bill!" he cried, "an' lick 'im good before me. He's been mean all day. Um, Brownell's foolish about the mine. Back to work, men!"

But an ominous growl ran through the crowd.

"Else slipped up behind Danny, so confident and handsome, he replied to words that stirred her heart."

"I'll not whip the mine in or out," said he, "for he will soon get over his stubborn spell. If he'll come out quiet I'll fetch him out, as I don't wish to see the men in trouble on my account."

"Never mind us!" yelled the crowd, "an' don't beat the mine. Crazy Bill is the safest mine we got in the mine."

No one missed Else. The mine boss had telephoned the office force in the valley below and an excited group was coming up. Shotgun barrels flashed in the sunlight. Danny laughed good naturedly.

"We'll all be shot," he said, "if that Crazy Bill stands together. Here comes that whole coal company!"

Hostilities were for a moment suspended in the pleasure of watching the office force run up the hot slope. Seeing reinforcements at hand the mine boss asked Danny by the collar.

"Here, you're the ring-leader! Now you'll find your place!"

There was an angry roar and rush and the man was jostled and drawn firmly into the crowd.

"Oh, you will try dirty tricks, then? Now we've got you an' your 'buddy'!"

Justly he cried for help, but what could six persons do against six hundred? One man stood forward, tall and calm. A few of the men knew him for the general manager of the company, and seldom seen at the mine.

"What's up, my men?" Danny told him in a few terse sentences. They sounded humorous. The general manager listened and actually grinned. The grin grew into a laugh and was actually infectious. The strikers laughed with him.

"A mule and a mutiny," observed the general manager, "and where is the rebel?"

As if a stage cue had been given, Crazy Bill walked out of the mine mouth. His rusty chains dragged behind him, but his head was proudly erect. On his back, clinging to his collar, sat Else, her braids unfastened by her rough ride, her face sooty and attracted.

She saw no one but Danny, and to him, her young eyes all alight, she called:

"I bring out Crazy Bill, Danoy! He knows you alters lommie rids 'im. Now

Poisoned by Absorption

POISON OAK, POISON IVY, BARBER'S ITCH, LEAD AND BRASS POISONING, ETC.

Through the pores of the skin many poisons are absorbed into the blood, deranging the circulation and affecting the constitution as quickly and seriously as those generated within the system. Just under the skin are innumerable hair-like blood vessels, and connecting these with the skin are millions of small tubes or glands, through which the poison is conveyed to the blood system. During the spring and summer, while the skin is most active and the pores well open, we are much more liable to be affected by Poison Oak and Ivy than in the winter. Workers in brass, copper, lead and zinc have their health endangered by the absorption of fine particles of these metals and the acids used in polishing and cleaning them. Inhaling the fumes of lead give painters that pallid, weary appearance of the skin. Barber's Itch is another disease that reaches the blood through the skin, and is a most obstinate one when it becomes firmly fixed in the system. After the poison has reached the blood and been disseminated throughout the system it is too late to resort to local applications. In many cases the blood is affected simultaneously with the appearance of the rash or eruption on the skin, and all efforts should be directed to break out in spite of salves, washes, soaps or other external treatment.

S. S. S. is especially recommended for poisons of this character. So completely does it destroy the effects of the Oak and Ivy that there is no possibility of its reappearance, and it is equally as efficacious in brass or lead poisoning or Barber's Itch; building up and purifying the blood and driving out of the circulation impurities of every kind, and removing every element, sore or eruption from the skin. There is no substitute for S. S. S., it is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the safest and best in all constitutional or blood diseases.

Our Medical Consultation Department.—If you desire any special information or advice about your case, write our physicians, explaining your condition, and they will carefully consider what you have to say. Our physicians have made a study of blood and skin diseases, and you can have the benefit of their experience and skill without any cost to you whatever. Don't hesitate to write fully about your case, nothing you say goes beyond our office. We have a very interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases, which we will be glad to mail free.

PAINTFULLY BURNED.

A BUCKET OF COALS AND ASHES FALLS ON S. S. MIZELL.

Mr. S. S. Mizell of 421 South Fourth street was painfully burned this morning while carrying out a bucket of hot ashes.

He slipped up in the yard and was thrown to the ground, the bucket striking his arm and turning over. All the contents of burning coals and ashes were thrown on his arm, and his right wrist was burned so badly that the skin peeled off, and left the flesh bare. Dr. Sanders dressed the injury.

COAL MEN

A meeting of several Kentucky coal operators was held yesterday at the Louisville hotel behind closed doors. According to information which leaked out later the question of legislation affecting the coal interests of the state was up for discussion, and it was decided to send a committee to Frankfort to look after the matter. Among those present were J. R. Rash, of Lexington; Hywell Davies, of Tennessee; W. E. Davis, of Jellico; Arthur Graves, of Knoxville; and W. J. Nisbet, of Providence.

LORD ROSSLYN'S FINISH.

Word reached London today that Lord Rosslyn's system at Monte Carlo had collapsed, and that he is a rather heavy loser. A friend of his was starting for Monte Carlo to play the system, and was actually in the train at Charing Cross with his luggage booked for "The Sonny South," when a telegram was put into his hand telling him that the end had come, and that there was no use in his making the journey.

GREAT GROWDS

GATHERING AT NEW ORLEANS FOR MARDI GRAS FESTIVITIES, COMUS BALL OPENING, SOCIAL FUNCTION.

New Orleans, Feb. 7.—The carnival of 1902, which socially has been in swing for the three weeks past, actually opened last night with the parade and ball of Comus. The city is already well filled with strangers, and the railroads report that the travel from now until Tuesday will be very heavy. The weather yesterday was threatening, but there was a clear night for the pageant, which was of great splendor.

The annual arrival of Comus occurs on Monday, and among those who will assist in the reception will be the Burgess Corps of New York. Proteus had his pageant on Monday evening. The Rex procession occurs on Tuesday. The Comus pageant on that evening and balls by Comus and Rex will close the carnival.

SAMPSON TO FILE BRIEF

WILL BE IN NATURE OF A PROTEST AGAINST THE SETTLEMENT OF THE QUESTION OF COMMAND.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Messrs. Sampson and Thell, counsel for Rear Admiral Sampson, filed with the president today a protest against the settlement of the question of command at Santiago. Rear Admiral Sampson, they claim, has had no chance whatever to submit evidence. It will be stated that the questionnaire of the Oregon, had been allowed by the court of inquiry to testify, would have stated that on the day of the battle he could, with the aid of a telescope have seen signals from the New York. The officers of the New York could give evidence regarding the position of the cruiser to which they were attached, the officers on other vessels had they been allowed to testify, could have given evidence which would have been valuable in determining the position of Rear Admiral Sampson's flagship.

IT IS GRADUAL

MORE WINGS ARE NOW WORKING—IMPROVEMENT EVERY DAY.

Supt. Harry Wallace thinks that by tomorrow night some of the street lights will be turned on. It has had men at work on the system since the storm last week, and is confident that things will soon be in shape again.

There are today about eight of the long distance telephones working with a prospect of many more by the end of the week. The situation at the telephone offices is about the same.

The street cars are now running regularly, and it will be but a short time until all the incandescent lights are burning.

The Third street line of cars will not begin running for several days yet.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

BYLAWS AND RULES READY FOR THE BUILDERS' ASSOCIATION.

Mr. H. H. Evans, chairman of the committee and constitution of the House Builders' Association temporarily organized here a few nights ago, and his committee have formulated a set of rules and bylaws, and two sessions and will submit them at the meeting tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. room, when the association will be permanently organized. It is probable they will be adopted.

DID AS ORDERED

BUT THE WOULD-BE ROBBER WAS SURPRISED.

A night or two ago a white man stopped Mr. John Williamson, Jr., near Sixth and Harrison streets, and ordered him to throw up his hands. He thought he would rob Mr. Williamson in the darkness.

Mr. Williamson threw up his hands as directed, but when he did he had a gun in one of them, and the would-be robber fairly flew.

OVER A HUNDRED THOUSAND.

London, Feb. 7.—The war office this evening published a summary of the British losses in South Africa. Up to January 1 the total reduction of the forces from death or permanent disability were 25,505 men. The total casualties, including surviving wounded, was 52,410 officers and 109,101 men.

AT "THE KENTUCKY."

Miss Maud Daniels, manager of the Wilbur Opera company, has decided in view of existing circumstances, to reduce the price of admission to the excellent operas that are being given nightly at The Kentucky. This is because of the difficulties resulting from a dark city and curtailed street car facilities.

"I believe," she said to a reporter, "that the price of everything should be placed within reach of all the people. We want every person to attend our performances, not one or two nights, but every night, and I don't think that every man or woman feels like he or she can spare fifty or thirty-five cents every night. We want every person who comes to a home feeling that he or she has received his or her money's worth. For this reason, Manager English and I have concluded to reduce the price of admission for next week to from fifteen to fifty cents. There will be only a few of the down stairs seats fifty cents, and the others twenty-five. The entire gallery will be fifteen cents. This is effective next week, and we expect to double the attendance. In addition, we are going to give largain matinees throughout next week. We will play everyone for ten cents a seat, first come, first served, and I believe that the result will bear me out in my theory that these reduced prices will result in an enormous increase in patronage.

"We fully appreciate the conditions under which our patrons have attended the performances this week, and believe that with lights and street cars next week, and a reduction in prices, we will have all we can play to every night.

"This is not our first experience in a dark town. In Canada, last season, we played thirteen weeks in a skating rink, with candles for footlights and candles for all other illuminating purposes. In Canada, when they have their dreadful storms, they shut off every bit of the electricity, and having no theatre on account of a fire, we were forced to play our thirteen weeks' engagement with no lights except candles—but we turned people away every night."
